Poetisa's Palette is dedicated to developing the art of poetic skin. That's right, skin so soft, so beautiful, so rich that it is worthy of poetry. Created by Paula Wills on Chicago's Southside, Poetisa's Palette is a skin care company that utilizes nature's gifts to make fresh skin care products and services. Poetisa's Palette believes in quality over quantity, which is what determines what butters, oils, and herbs are used in the formulation. Listed below are just a few of the ingredients found in the Palette's formulations and their benefits.

Amla Oil Amla fruit, also known as the Indian Gooseberry, comes from a small tree that grows throughout India. Amla fruit yields an extract that has been used for centuries in Ayurvedic medicine to treat the hair loss and scalp.

Avocado Butter offers endless benefits to the skin. Avocados are rich in skin conditioning components such as vitamins A, B, D and E, and are known for revitalizing dry dull skin.

Cocoa Butter, derived from the cocoa bean is known as the Mother of moisturizers. It has been keeping skin soft and supple for centuries and is often recommended as treatment for eczema and dermatitis.

Cupuaçu Butter, The Cupuaçu tree grows in the Amazon Rain Forest of South America. The creamy Cupuaçu butter is creamier and smoother than cocoa butter in texture. It melts to the touch. Cupuaçu enhances elasticity, helps aging skin absorb water better, and provides deep long-lasting hydration to dry and damaged skin. This naturally tropically scented butter protects skin from the harmful UV-A and UV-B rays. Cupuaçu Butter is also soothing to skin irritations such as eczema and dermatitis, and will protect against further irritation.

Jojoba Oil (pronounced ho-Ho-ba) is a non-greasy wax that mimics the naturally present sebum on the skin. It's a natural antioxidant penetrating the skin to moisturize without blocking the pores.

Goat's Milk and Honey appear frequently in my formulations because of their nourishing qualities.

-Goat's Milk contains lactic acid which helps smooth skin. Its benefits give skin strength and suppleness and is perfect for all skin types.

-Raw Honey is a natural humectant. Instead of the air robbing your skin of moisture, raw honey pulls moisture from the atmosphere and reverses the effects of the environment.

Art of Poetic Lotion

Loaded with rich butters and oils, our lotion includes some serious heavy hitters in its Palette. Avocado butter, cocoa butter, olive oil, and cupuacu butter are all lavish and all aimed at soothing dry irritated skin. Apparently in the lotions thickness and texture, the goal behind this formulation is to feed the skin vital nutrients that are often lost in dryer, colder and urban environments. Our lotions come in three delightful fragrances, We have the warm sweet fragrance of Sugar Honey Earth, If you love spring you will love the lemon grass notes of SunKiss. . You will love the sensuous fragrance of Moonlight Path.

Sunday Morning Butter

Easy like a Sunday Morning, this creamy formulation is gentle and melts into the skin like warm butter on a freshly baked croissant. Sunday Morning Butter's baked goods approach to skin care allows you to indulge without the calories. Its palette contains jojoba oil, avocado butter, olive oil, cupuacu butter and argan oil.

Mocha Latte Scrub

Get that caffeine fix and shower at the same time! Poetisa's Palette has created a foaming coffee scrub which will jump start your morning and the chocolate fragrance pull you in for the morning treat of a life time. For this palette I chose ground coffee, goat's milk, raw honey, jojoba oil and coffee butter. Caffeine is a key ingredient in most cellulite fighting creams. So brighten your day and smooth out some bumps at the same time.
